

The Federal Communications Commission

Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I am concerned that the current flat fee for the "Universal Service Fund" proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Individuals should not have to pay the same tax as large volume callers or businesses, as the flat fee proposal now under consideration proposes.

I use my wireless phone for safety, security, personal logistics, and convenience. I don't want to such benefits so that I can subsidize big businesses! I urge you to reject the proposal for a flat-fee USF collection system.

If anything, the inherently regressive USF tax should be reduced or eliminated.

Sincerely,

Bruce Tepley
2040 Santa Cruz, STE. 245
Anaheim, California 92805